

25 July 2017

Industrial Price Index. Base 2010
June 2017. Provisional data

The annual Industrial Price Index stands at 3.2%, two points below that of May

The monthly variation of industrial prices is 0.1%

Annual evolution of industrial prices

The annual rate for the general Industrial Price Index (IPRI) in June is 3.2%, two points below that registered in May.

By economic destination of the goods, among the industrial sectors that presented a negative monthly effect on the general index worth noting were:

- Energy, had a rate of 5.8%, which represents a decrease of 7.5 points as compared to last month, because of a drop in Petroleum Refinement prices, as opposed to the increase registered in June 2016, and the increase in the Production, transport and distribution of electrical energy, which was lower than the previous year.
- The Intermediate goods, whose annual variation stood at 2.8%, seven tenths below that registered in May. Worth noting in this behaviour was the decrease in the prices of Manufacture of basic chemical products, nitrogen compounds, fertilisers, plastics and synthetic rubber in primary forms, which increased in June last year.
- The Non-durable consumption goods, ha a variation 2.4%, eight tenths lower than that registered in May. This behaviour is due mainly to the drop in the prices for Manufacture of vegetable and animal oils and fats as compared to the increase in the past year, and to the increase in the prices of Processing and preserving of meat and production of meat products, which was lower than in 2016.

Contribution of the industrial sectors in the annual rate of the IPRI

The annual variation rate of the general index excluding Energy decreased five tenths, up to 2.2% standing nearly one point below that of the general IPRI.

Annual evolution of the IPRI
General index and general index excluding Energy

Monthly evolution of industrial prices

The monthly variation of the overall IPRI was 0.1% in June.

By economic destination of the goods, among the industrial sectors that presented a greater positive effect, worth noting were:

- Energy, with a variation rate of 0.4% and a contribution of 0.094, due to the increase in the prices of Power generation, transmission and distribution, and to a lesser degree, the Manufacture of gas; distribution of gaseous fuels through mains.

In this sector is noteworthy, although in the opposite direction, the decrease in the prices of Refining Oil is noteworthy.

- Capital goods, with a rate of 0.1%, in which stand out the increases in the Manufacture of metal elements for construction and the Manufacture of railway and tramway locomotives and rolling stock. Its contribution to the general IPRI was 0.016.

In turn, amongst the sectors that presented a negative effect on the general index, the most relevant was:

- Intermediate goods, with a variation rate of -0.2%, which contributed -0.052. This evolution is due to the decrease of the Manufacture of basic chemical products, nitrogenous compounds, fertilisers, plastics and synthetic rubber in primary forms.

A more detailed analysis shows the activities that most affected the monthly rate of the IPRI in the month of June.

Activities with the most positive contribution in the IPRI monthly rate

Results by Autonomous Community. Annual variation rates

The annual rate of the IPRI fell in all Autonomous Communities except for Cantabria, where it increased one tenth.

The greatest decreases were recorded in Canarias, Illes Balears and Asturias, whose annual rates decreased 9.6, 6.1, and 4.5 points respectively.
