Since 1998, when the Official figures of population from the Revision of the Municipal Register at 1 January were published for the first time, the population registered in Spain had increased every year. In 2013 the first decrease was experienced, as compared with 2012, and this year it experienced a decrease of 404,619 persons, according to the provisional data.

During those years that increase was mainly due to the registration of foreign nationals, whose figure stood at 5,747,734 in 2010 from 923,879 in 2010.

In 2011 and 2012, net registrations of foreign nationals were negative (-15,229 and -190,020, respectively). And in 2013, they registered the greatest decrease (-545,980).
