Methodological Annex

The ICT Sector is comprised of the manufacturing and services industries whose main activity is related to the development, production, marketing and intensive use of Information and Communications Technologies. The ICT Sector is characterised by high rates of innovation, technological progress and productivity.

In statistical terms, the definition of the ICT Sector is developed through a comprehensive listing of the branches of activity corresponding to ICT companies (focus by sector) and ICT products (focus by product).

In order to determine the list of activities and products in the ICT sector, we have begun with the methodological work carried out by the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) on the subject.

Information sources

The Indicators of the ICT sector is a summary operation that collects information from the following INE sources:

Structural Business Statistics: Industrial sector, Trade sector and Services sector; Statistics on R&D Activities; Technological Innovation in Companies Survey; Quarterly Labour Cost Survey; Industrial Products Survey and Survey on the Use of Information and Communications Technologies and Electronic Commerce in Companies.

Information has also been obtained from the Foreign Trade Statistics of the Spanish Tax Agency.

For the reference year 2016 various methodological improvements have been implemented on the Structural Business Statistics, framed within the "Integration Project of the Structural Business Statistics". As a consequence of these changes, the results presented today are not strictly comparable to those of other years since the evolution of variables is due not only to possible real changes produced in this period, but also to the effects of the methodological improvements on the estimation of said variables. This effect is more pronounced for the variable number of companies in the Trade and Services Sectors, and relatively small for the rest of the information.

For further details, see the document "Measure of the impact of the methodological changes in the Structural Business Statistics 2016":
